RENT COURT IN CHICAGO BUSY PLACE
More Than 400 Cases Are Heard by Judge Who Tries to Settle Squabbles

JUDGE AT CAPITAL: PRISONERS SUFFER
WASHINGTON, May 8.—(AP.)—Twenty American citizens are in jail here unable to get trial. This is due to the absence of Judge Lobbinger, United States Federal Judge, who is in Washington at this time. The men are confined in quarters large enough for only half the number in them, and one death has already occurred. Judge Lobbinger is in the capital to answer charges preferred by W. S. Fleming, a local attorney. His hearing is before Judge Daugherty and started last September.

THE AMERICAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE, BAR ASSOCIATION AND OTHER AMERICAN BODIES HAVE VOTED THEIR CONFIDENCE IN JUDGE LOBBINGER AND HAVE URGED PRESIDENT HARDING TO DISMISS THE CHARGES AGAINST HIM SO HE CAN RETURN HOME AND RELIEVE THE SITUATION. The charges against him are due to a local fight among American lawyers, in which Mr. Fleming received a sentence of six months in jail for contempt of court. Mr. Fleming's sentence was appealed to the California Court of Appeals and affirmed.

THE COURT DOCKET HERE IS PILED FULL OF UNTRIED CASES, AMERICANS AND OTHERS, AND BUSINESS IS SERIOUSLY HANDICAPPED DUE TO THE SLOWNESS OF THE ADMINISTRATION TO SETTLE THE MATTER.

Why we can sell used Pianos so cheaply

Our enormous business, selling new pianos, entails the courtesy of accepting used pianos in exchange. Therefore, we have accumulated many fine used pianos, which we prefer to sell for below value rather than to hold, as we do not feature used pianos.

Also included in this SALE are Grand and Players used only for demonstrating.

Many of these used pianos and players are like new. Others have been carefully REMANED and REFINISHED.

All are protected by our usual, reliable guarantee of being exactly as represented.

OPEN FIRE ON TARIFF PLAN

Democrats Cite Authorities, Court Decisions

Flexible Scheme is Called Unconstitutional

Taxing Power is Reserved to Congress

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, May 8.—An attack on the flexible tariff plan, proposed by the Senate Finance Committee on the recommendation of President Harding, was launched today in the Senate, and in the course of the four hours' debate, Chairman McCumber, in charge of the tariff bill, announced that some of the objections raised to the plan would be considered by the committee before final Senate action on it.

AUTHORITIES CITED

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, opened the discussion with the delivery of a prepared address in which he cited many authorities and court decisions, to support his argument, that the provisions were unconstitutional. Senators Underwood of Alabama, and Simmons of North Carolina, the Democratic leaders, joined him, arguing that for the first time in the history of the country, it was proposed to protect the profits of American manufacturers.

Chairman McCumber and Senator Smoot of Utah, ranking Republicans, on the committee, defended the plan, the former insisting that if the American producer raised his price to an exorbitant figure, it was not contemplated that the President would increase tariff duties to protect him. Senator Smoot expressed doubt that the President would have to act in more than one case out of a thousand and added that the rules laid down under

WILL DEDICATE ARIZONA DAM

Florence and Casa Grande Plan Celebration

Indians Deeply Interested in Diversion Project

Canal System Will Irrigate Reservation Fields

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)

FLORENCE (Ariz.) May 8.—On Wednesday will be formal dedication of the completed Hayden Ashurst diversion dam across the Gila channel, twelve miles above Florence. The cities of Florence and Casa Grande are expected to be left without population for the day, while 1000 or more celebrants are expected from Phoenix, Tucson and other points. Phoenix is to be represented by a trainload of citizens, who will be taken directly to the dam, for the Arizona Eastern main line up the Gila skirts the northern edge of the dam site. The river is at low stage and many boats from ashore are expected to be possible on foot across the dam.

INDIANS INTERESTED

There also will be present 1000 or more Pima Indians. For the tribe is keenly interested in the new work, which was designed primarily for reservation needs. The canal system is not yet completed, but through its extension the Indians around Florence are to get water for the irrigation of 30,000 acres, compared with an allotment to the whites of water for 17,000 acres around Florence and Casa Grande. About 100,000 acres more of excellent farming land is available, but it is appreciated that the little enterprise of the cultivated area, save by pumping, till there has been construction of the San Carlos storage dam. Work has been started on a second diversion dam, across the Gila near Florence, this to be for the benefit of the Indians of the lower part of the reservation. The dam just completed has cost about $200,000. The second will cost nearly twice as much, for it will be longer and will bear a superimposed wagon bridge.

GREAT CONCRETE SLAB

The dam just finished mainly consists of great concrete slabs, placed on many rows of deeply driven piling. It is of the Indian type and to a degree is similar to that at Laguna, on the Colorado River, above Yuma. There will be no masonry above it and its basin probably will be filled with silt after the first flood has passed. The main diversion works are on the south, with gates leading into a head canal of 40,000 miners' capacity, this equipped with facilities for desilting its upper section. A tunnel through the heart of the dam carries water back to the northern bank, this to satisfy small prior flow rights of white farmers.

The State is to be represented by Secretary of State Hall, for Gov. Campbell. There had been hope of securing the attendance of Secretary Fall of the Interior Department, but the government will be represented by Maj. C. R. Oldberg, assistant chief engineer of the Indian service, who has been in charge of construction of the local reclamation works.

The program includes a number of addresses, baseball and other sports and a barbecue.

LAWYER'S DISBARMENT IS UPHOLD BY COURT

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—The State Supreme Court denied today a petition by George D. Collins, former San Francisco attorney, who served a term in prison on a perjury conviction growing out of a charge of bribery, that the order disbarring him from practice be dismissed. Collins precipitated a sensational series of court actions in his attempts to escape prison.

The court held today that the "moral turpitude" charged against Collins was too great a detriment to his being again allowed to practice.

TWINS PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGE OF ARSON

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

MODESTO, May 8.—D. L. Cone and Alvin and Alva Graham, twin brothers, who said they were from Stockton, pleaded guilty today to a charge of arson in an attempt to burn the Santa Fe Hotel at Riverbank, near here, April 8. The sentence date was set for Thursday.

The youths implicated Mrs. Florence Gray, who is being held in the County Jail, in default of $2000 bail, on a similar charge. Mrs. Gray has entered a plea of not guilty and will go to trial June 2.

BOX FACTORY STRIKE AT DORRIS ENDED

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

DORRIS (Siskiyou county) May 8.—The strike of box factory workers which has paralyzed the lumber industry here since March 1, ended today with the resumption of operations by the Associated Lumber and Box Company and the Dorris Lumber and Box Company plants. The factories resumed on a nine-hour basis.

Decision to call off the strike was reached at a meeting of the workers Saturday night.

VETERAN COP FULL OF PEP

Visalia Officer Serves the City Long Period of Years

VISALIA, May 7.—C. A. Grant has finished his sixteenth consecutive years as night watchman in the business section of Visalia, and is beginning his seventeenth term as full of pep, he declares, as when he began.

"Dad" is a familiar figure to Visalians, and residents of near-by towns. He was engaged by the merchants of this city in 1906, and has been on the job ever since.

Asked when he would retire, "Dad" replied, "When I have finished sixteen years more I will turn the job over to 'an old man.'" which he could act as so plain that there was no doubt about its constitutionality.

POWER RESERVED

Senator Walsh told the Senate that the Constitution specifically reserved to Congress the power to lay and collect taxes on imports, duties, and that Congress could not delegate this authority. He also attacked the flexible plan, on the ground that no provision was made for judicial review of the President's action in changing rates or classifications and contended that the rule laid down under which the President was to act, "to equalize conditions of competition in trade," was so indefinite that the President could take into consideration many elements aside from production costs.

In this connection, the speaker said debate on the bill had disclosed that the committee made no investigation, yielding any fruit to the relative cost of production in this country and abroad, but had been guided largely, if not wholly, by the prices of the domestic and foreign articles in the American market.

WOULD BE AUTHORIZED

Replying to Senator Walsh, Senator McCumber said the President would be authorized to take into consideration every factor bearing upon the question of competition in trade, and that these factors might include the matter of change, labor costs, freight rates, export duties and laws and regulations in the country of origin, and any other matters affecting equality in the markets of the United States.

"American manufacturers," he declared, "are not much interested in what an article costs abroad, but in what it is being laid down for in the American market."

Senator McCumber said the only rule to guide the President was to impose duties which bring about equality in conditions of competition in trade. Turning to the question of the constitutionality of the proposed provision, he declared that the plan outlined did not approach the matter of the law under which the Interstate Commerce Commission operated.

Senator Underwood told the Senate that not only was he convinced the flexible tariff plan was unconstitutional, but that it was wrong in principle and would lead to the "oppression of the American people," and in the end to the ruin of the business and prosperity of the country. Declaring that he knew of no way to equalize conditions of competition in trade, except through equalizing prices, Senator Underwood declared that the result of such a plan would be to make the consumers of the country pay the price of industrial monopoly.

OMAHA MAN KILLED IN POSTOFFICE FIRE

CHARRED BODY IDENTIFIED BY WATCH NUMBER; BLAZE MYSTERY

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

OMAHA, May 8.—Identity of a charred body found in debris of a post office and grocery store building at Bellevue, Neb., today after the structure had been destroyed by fire following an explosion, was established to be that of F. E. Schriever, aged 33, of Omaha. Identification was made through the number of a watch found among the ruins, after authorities had begun an investigation of the cause of the blaze, working on the theory the fire started when an attempt was made to open the post office safe.

Investigation revealed that the safe had been wrecked by the force of the explosion, according to the County Attorney of Sagay county, who added that a coroner's jury had been empaneled to make inquiry into the man's death.

MODEL IS ARRESTED AS ROBBER SUSPECT

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Lambert Bruce, artist, model and said by the police to be the actor of a wealthy Brooklyn family, was taken into custody here today in connection with the holding up of the Hilltop branch of the Citizens Trust Company at Columbus, O.

Two handbags obtained $1200 in the robbery, according to information to the San Francisco police.

GOES TO WASHINGTON

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 8.—Sims Ely, for fourteen years a member of the Board of Education of the Phoenix schools, has gone to Washington, to take up important work in the Department of Justice. Before his departure he was recipient of many expressions of regret concerning the city's loss of his services. He was the honored guest at a banquet of 200 local educators, headed by School Superintendent J. D. Loper. W. R. Twitchell has been named to the vacated position on the school board.

SIX LIVES ARE LOST IN CROSSING WRECK

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

VANCOUVER (B. C.) May 8.—Six persons were killed late last night when the automobile in which they were riding was struck by the Kettle Valley train of the Canadian Pacific Railway, east-bound, near Mission City, forty miles east of here.

The dead are: Oliver de Roche, after whom the town of De Roche was named; Mrs. Rose McDonald, wife of D. A. McDonald of De Roche; Alex McDonald, her son; Bert Gregory and Margaret Petland, Mission City; a man known as Sherry.

Roads Have Good Month

(BY A. F. RIGBY WIRE.)

WASHINGTON, May 8.—American railroads had one of the best months' earnings experienced in recent years during March, according to compilation by the Association of Railway Executives, and obtained operating income of $1,519,904. This was the composite return of the 201 "Class 1" roads, which operate 235,000 miles of main line track out of approximately 240,000 in the entire country, and represented earnings at normal rates, though with the tentative valuation fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Gets Land Payment

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)

PHOENIX (Ariz.) May 8.—R. D. Davis of Los Angeles, who sold the Marinette ranch northwest of Phoenix two years ago to the Southwest Cotton Company, a Goodyear subsidiary, lately received a payment of about $200,000 on the purchase price of $1,000,000. The tract is one mainly irrigated by pumps, though with its own canal from the Agus Fria River.

Florence and Casa Grande Plan Celebration

Indians Deeply Interested in Diversion Project

Canal System Will Irrigate Reservation Fields

(REUTERS DISPATCH.)

FLORENCE (Ariz.) May 8.—On Wednesday will be formal dedication of the completed Hayden Ashurst diversion dam across the Gila channel, twelve miles above Florence. The cities of Florence and Casa Grande are expected to be left without population for the day, while 1000 or more celebrants are expected from Phoenix, Tucson and other points. Phoenix is to be represented by a trainload of citizens, who will be taken directly to the dam, for the Arizona Eastern main line up the Gila skirts the northern edge of the dam site. The river is at low stage and many boats from ashore are expected to be possible on foot across the dam.

INDIANS INTERESTED

There also will be present 1000 or more Pima Indians. For the tribe is keenly interested in the new work, which was designed primarily for reservation needs. The canal system is not yet completed, but through its extension the Indians around Florence are to get water for the irrigation of 30,000 acres, compared with an allotment to the whites of water for 17,000 acres around Florence and Casa Grande. About 100,000 acres more of excellent farming land is available, but it is appreciated that the little enterprise of the cultivated area, save by pumping, till there has been construction of the San Carlos storage dam. Work has been started on a second diversion dam, across the Gila near Florence, this to be for the benefit of the Indians of the lower part of the reservation. The dam just completed has cost about $200,000. The second will cost nearly twice as much, for it will be longer and will bear a superimposed wagon bridge.

GREAT CONCRETE SLAB

The dam just finished mainly consists of great concrete slabs, placed on many rows of deeply driven piling. It is of the Indian type and to a degree is similar to that at Laguna, on the Colorado River, above Yuma. There will be no masonry above it and its basin probably will be filled with silt after the first flood has passed. The main diversion works are on the south, with gates leading into a head canal of 40,000 miners' capacity, this equipped with facilities for desilting its upper section. A tunnel through the heart of the dam carries water back to the northern bank, this to satisfy small prior flow rights of white farmers.

The State is to be represented by Secretary of State Hall, for Gov. Campbell. There had been hope of securing the attendance of Secretary Fall of the Interior Department, but the government will be represented by Maj. C. R. Oldberg, assistant chief engineer of the Indian service, who has been in charge of construction of the local reclamation works.

The program includes a number of addresses, baseball and other sports and a barbecue.

PLAN TO REMEDY GRADE CROSSING

South Pasadena, May 8.—A project to eliminate a dangerous double railroad crossing on Fremont avenue below the Buena Vista street hill has been started by a group of citizens. At this point the Southern Pacific and Salt Lake trains menace thousands of vehicles traveling daily between Pasadena and Los Angeles. The roadways will be lowered six feet below the tracks, according to tentative plans.

Buy Liberty Bonds Cheaper Than We

It will amaze many Americans to learn that, while the American dollar is at a premium in most countries, in some of Swiss money it is at a discount. This makes it possible for the Swiss citizen to buy American Liberty Bonds cheaper than we can.

You have precisely the same advantage over the citizen of Czechoslovakia in respect to the bonds of his country, except in a far greater degree. You can buy—

Republic of Czechoslovak 4 1/2% Premium Bonds at about one-tenth their par value. For $105, you can buy a Czechoslovak bond, which with exchange at par, is worth $101.51. With each advance in the rate of exchange you make a handsome profit. And your principal is well safeguarded.

Similar investment opportunities obtain in Brazilian, Colombian and other bonds. Write us for full particulars.

Dollars and Sense—and Bonds

The steadily increasing demand for good investment bonds of the older issues as well as the tremendous over-subscriptions received on recently marketed issues, is, in our opinion, sufficient indication that in the not distant future, investors will be obliged to accept lower returns on their purchases. Although a few months ago, somewhat higher returns than are at present obtainable were to be had, we firmly believe that PROBABLY NOT AGAIN FOR SOME YEARS TO COME WILL GOOD INVESTMENT BONDS OFFER SUCH OPPORTUNITIES AS EXIST AT PRESENT.

If you have funds to invest, or if you are in the position of having to reinvest in the near future the proceeds from securities which are approaching maturity, the time to do so is now.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)

NEW YORK, May 8.—The week in the stock market began with unmistakable signs of a further reaction from the long sustained bull movement. For the first full session in about four weeks dealings fell under the million-share level, barely aggregating 975,000 shares. At no time was the buying power a match for the selling, a considerable part of the offerings emanating from professional interests. News of the week-end recess was mixed but partly of a sort to invite an extension of the short account.

The foreign situation provoked heaviness among international currencies and domestic conditions suggested further easement of the recent broad money inquiry from out-of-town sources.

Industrial developments were conflicting. Three of the largest oil producing and refining companies posted higher prices for gasoline and bunker oil while sharp reduction was announced in four well-known types of automobiles.

Middle West railroad tonnage exceeded for the most part the movements of last year's corresponding period and eastern traffic returns were fairly large with the exception of coal haulings.

Domestic oils and Mexican petroleum, as well as the motors, equipments and junior rails, yielded most easily to intermittent pressure. Steels afforded moderate resistance, but ultimately gave way. United States Steel forfeited much of last Saturday's substantial gain and Republic and Vanadium were among the other heavy issues. New Haven was the one active stock to run counter to the general trend, rising to the last year's best quotation in the final dealings, when the general list was most confused. Coppers also helped to sustain the market, with a few miscellaneous specialties, but a heavy tone ruled at the close.

Ignoring last Saturday's favorable bank statement, money rates showed unexpected firmness. The 4 per cent opening quotation for call loans remained at that price until just before the market's close when 4 1/2 per cent was demanded or belated borrowers.

Demand sterling fell to 4.42 1/2, or 1 3/4 cents below the record quotation of the previous week. Allied exchanges fell 15 points, but the German rate lost only a fraction.

Neutral countries, including Sweden and Switzerland, eased sympathetically and the Czechoslovakian remittance was more than ten points under its quotation of last Friday.

NEW ISSUE—

Secured by a Closed First Mortgage on Properties Which are Producing One of the Basic Necessities of Modern Civilization.

$1,000,000

SPRING CANYON COAL COMPANY

First (Closed) Mortgage 7 1/2% Gold Bonds

Dated April 1, 1922

Denomination $1000

Principal and semi-annual interest (April 1, and October 1), payable in Gold Coin at the office of the Union Trust Company of San Francisco.

Callable by lot in reverse order to maturity, on any interest date, upon 30 days' notice at 105 and accrued interest until April 1, 1927; thereafter at 104 and interest, until April 1, 1932, and thereafter at 103 and interest.

Normal Federal Income Tax up to 2% paid by the Company.

UNION TRUST COMPANY OF SAN FRANCISCO, TRUSTEE

SECURITY

These bonds will be a direct obligation of the Spring Canyon Coal Company and will be secured, in the opinion of counsel, by a closed First Mortgage on property owned by Dr. Bailey Willis (head of the Geology Department of Stanford University, and an authority on coal) to contain in excess of 50,000,000 tons of high-grade bituminous coal, similar to the famous English "Canal" coal, underlying an area of 1350 acres owned in fee. This property is located in Carbon County, Utah, about 115 miles from Salt Lake City, on the Utah Railway, which is closely affiliated with the Union Pacific system through joint ownership of equipment and is also on the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad.

The security will further include all buildings, machinery and equipment owned by the Company, representing an investment to date of considerably in excess of $1,000,000. The mortgage will be drawn so as to include all similar property now owned or hereafter acquired by the Company. Thus the mortgage will represent a value of only four cents per ton on the coal, and in addition will be secured by over 100% in value of equipment.

SINKING FUND

The mortgage will provide for semi-annual payment to the trustee of an amount equal to 1 1/2% cents per ton of coal mined during the first five years, and 30 cents per ton thereafter during the life of these bonds. All moneys so deposited are to be used by the Trustee for the retirement of bonds as they mature. The amount in excess of that required to meet annual maturities will be applied to the redemption of bonds by lot, last maturities first, or by purchase in the open market, as provided in the call provision of the Trust Indenture.

On the basis of present production, payments for the account of Sinking Fund will substantially exceed the amount necessary to retire these bonds.

The entire property represents a value of over $8500 for each $1000 bond.

Physical examination of the property has been made on our behalf by Dr. Bailey Willis, coal authority and head of the Geology Department of Stanford University, and by a representative of our own organization.

All legal details in connection with the issuance of these bonds, the examination of titles to the property, etc., are under the supervision of Messrs. Chickering & Gregory, and Rufus Hatch Kimball, Esq., Attorneys of San Francisco.

Definitive bonds with all coupons attached will be delivered. All bonds offered subject to prior sale, when, as and if issued and received by us and subject to change in price without notice.

BURCH DEFENSE SPRINGS ALIBI

One Witness Says Man Was Miles from Crime

Another Was Mistaken for Him, He Believes

Testimony is Sensation as Case Nears End

What defense attorneys termed an absolute alibi which placed Arthur C. Burch thirty-five miles from the scene of the slaying of J. E. Kennedy last August, and which, they declare, will mean freedom to the defendant, broke late yesterday in the trial of Burch in Judge Reeves' court. The alibi, wholly unexpected by the prosecution, asserted Burch was in Long Beach at the moment Kennedy was shot.

The first alibi witness testified that Burch, according to her near Watta and inquired the way to Long Beach. She is Mrs. F. C. Malloy of Watta. She stood within two feet of Burch while she talked to him, she said, and he removed his hat and wiped his brow. Then she picked him out as the man who had questioned her in the County Jail from among seventy-five other prisoners and visitors. The incident, she declared, took place a short time before Kennedy was shot.

The second witness was Oscar E. Brann, a disabled veteran. Confined to a Palm Beach suit, straw hat, glasses, a dark string tie, and resting in his Dodge roadster near the bridge at the mouth of Santa Monica Canyon a short time after Kennedy was shot, Mr. Brann declared he was spoken to by a man regarding a blind headlight on his car. And yesterday he testified and gave the exact language Charles Sumner said he used in talking to the man whom he identified as Burch.

VISITING DAUGHTER

Mrs. Malloy stated that she had been visiting a daughter a few blocks from her home. She left the daughter's house August 8 at 7:30 p.m. and walked along Alameda Boulevard. Between 7:30 and 8 p.m. a young man in a Palm Beach suit and straw hat and driving a roadster car stopped beside her. With his left hand on the wheel he slid over in his seat until his face was within two feet of that of the witness, she declared.

The young man asked her the road to Long Beach. She stood there fully a minute directing him and looking at him, she said. Then he thanked her and drove in the direction of Long Beach Boulevard.

The story was drawn from Mrs. Malloy by Paul W. Schenck of the defense counsel. Mrs. Malloy had told him quite recently that she believed the man she saw that night was Burch. She was then taken to the jail. She sat in the corridor for half an hour and was asked the questions and answers that followed.

People and Their Trouble Stories

Elizabeth Jordan's Column.

"FREEDOM" AND THE YOUNG

A western State college has recently suspended seventeen of its girl students for conduct "unworthy of ladies." Thirteen additional girl students, whose conduct is also under criticism by the faculty, are permitted to remain in college on probation. The leading offenses of all these girls were cigarette smoking and "moonlight walking" with young men.

The president of the university explains that he has no desire to interfere with the "personal liberty" which college students so loudly demand nowadays, but that his college is a State institution in which young women are being prepared for teachers, and whose expenses the parents of their future pupils are paying in taxation. He is quite certain, he adds, that these parents are not willing to have their children taught by a corps of cigarette-smoking and flirtatious young women; and in this attitude he is, of course, entirely correct.

TODAY'S BIG EXPERIMENT

What college students and other young persons of today must try to realize is that they are being allowed their present amazing freedom, not because they are entitled to it, but simply to discover whether they are worthy of it. In other words, they are not given carte blanche to form bad habits and make exhibitions of themselves; they are simply offered an opportunity to show the world whether or not they possess ordinary judgment and ordinary common sense.

Those who do possess these qualities will continue to exercise and enjoy their new freedom. Those who do not must be and will be wisely restrained by those in authority over them.

That is the situation in a nutshell, and to amount of "hitting against the pryckle" will change it. Today's broadly tolerant attitude of the old toward the young is a temporary phase—one of the many adjustments of human relations made necessary by the war. Like many such adjustments, it has gone too far. In their desire to loosen the tight leading strings of the past in which so many of the young were wrongly held, many parents and educators have apparently dropped the strings entirely. But only apparently. The strings are still within reach. It remains for the younger generation to settle, by its conduct, the big question which is daily growing bigger, as to whether those leading strings must be resumed and how tightly they must again be drawn.

FREEDOM'S LIMITATIONS

For, and this is another point for rebellious youth to bear in mind, individual freedom, boiled down to its essence, is by no means the far-reaching freedom of their dreams. The most free of us are strongly bound—for the most part of us really have no freedom at all—for the most part of us are bound by the actions of others. The minute our freedom becomes a menace to others, our actions "a bad example" to the community, that freedom is and should be in peril. Freedom can be a blessing or it can be a deadly boomerang.

All of which, affectionately commended to the experimental young things of today whose experiments are, so amusing, so tragic, so pathetic—and so ephemeral.

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Files His Answer
LOS ANGELES, May 7.—(To the Editor of The Times.)—In a letter to your paper this morning one of your correspondents says something that surprises me. He says, "The People of California had nothing to do with this (the Eighteenth Amendment)." Please, Mr. Editor, may a poor, ignorant farmer's wife ask a question? Is it true that California is the only State in the Union that did not want prohibition? Did California have the honor of being the only State to reject the Eighteenth Amendment? Ain't that queer? I wonder if it can be possible that I had the proud distinction of being the only person in the grand State of California to vote "no" to the Eighteenth Amendment. It makes me feel some, somehow, just to think of it. I might be a little might proud, only your correspondent goes on to insinuate that Congress, alone and unaided, can repeal the Volstead Act. If that is true, then my vote didn't make no difference, now, now. Don't I wish now I had stayed to hum and read a movie magazine! And Hiram's vote wasn't no good, neither. Hiram's going to be real mad when he gets that through his head. And Congress ain't no government of "the people," like there used to be. And Congress passed the Eighteenth Amendment all by their little selves. Now, ain't that wonderful. Ain't it a grand and glorious way for the Government to be run by "honorable men, all honorable men," and not by a lot of gruffers like some folks say it is.

That poor, thirsty man, your correspondent, according to his own statement, is a "dumb and blind" if he can't get a drink, now. Or can it be possible that he lives in an honest, good, respectable neighborhood, owns his home, maybe, and is it that he has a really wholesome respect for the law? Or hasn't he money enough to hire a boat? Life is so complicated these days.

Question: How is the family budget of the average wage-earner divided?

Answer: According to a recent statement made by the Secretary of Agriculture, it is estimated that 43.1 per cent of the family budget is spent for food, 17.7 per cent for shelter, 12.3 per cent for clothing, 5.5 per cent for fuel and light, and 20.4 per cent for sundries.

Q: How many ex-soldiers have taken positions as postmasters since President Harding issued his executive order of May 10, 1921?

A: The Postoffice Department says that up to April 22, 1932, 480 ex-service men had been commissioned as postmasters since President Harding issued his executive order of May 10, 1921.

Q: How many cases of eggs were in cold storage up to April 17?

A: The cold storage holdings of cases of eggs up to April 17 were 949,000 cases. These are the largest stocks ever held on April 1, when the holdings on April 1 were 1,254,000 cases.

Q: Are fine papers as greatly in demand as before the war?

A: The demand for fine papers is fairly well maintained, being around 75 per cent of normal.

Q: How many ostriches are there in the United States?

A: The 1920 census shows only about 250 ostriches in this country. There has probably been some increase in ostrich farming in the past two years, since the demand for ostrich feathers has improved somewhat.

Q: Do any of the railroads build their own cars?

A: No good, neither. Hiram's going to be real mad when he gets that through his head. And Congress ain't no government of "the people," like there used to be. And Congress passed the Eighteenth Amendment all by their little selves. Now, ain't that wonderful. Ain't it a grand and glorious way for the Government to be run by "honorable men, all honorable men," and not by a lot of gruffers like some folks say it is.

Making Ironing Easier than you ever thought it could be NEARLY every woman knows the wrist strain and finger cramp that comes after even an hour's ironing.

Just why no one ever before thought to cure this condition is hard to say.

But the Hotpoint Housekeeping Engineers did it.

They developed the Hotpoint Electric Iron with the strength-saving Castile Handle.

Do you wonder that the Hotpoint Iron is the most popular iron all over America today? A true housekeeping servant.

You would look far before you would find a better illustration of that sympathetic understanding which makes the Hotpoint Servants so welcome in lightening the day's housework.

Hotpoint SERVANTS

EDISON ELECTRIC APPLIANCE CO., Inc.

200 West 42nd Street, New York City

The Strength-Saving Castile Handle on the Hotpoint Iron is the application of an engineering principle to the everyday work of the household. By means of this handle, you iron with the force of the whole arm applied in a straight line through the wrist. The strain is lessened. You iron more quickly and without fatigue.

The Hinged Cord Protector does away with most of the jerk, bending and breaking of the cord. Makes it easy to stretch and detach the cord.

The Attached Stand One simply sits the iron back on its base instead of lifting it to and from the old-fashioned ironing board—a saving of many hundred pounds of lifting in a day's ironing.

BLACK-HANDERS FOUND GUILTY

Old, Battered Typewriter Convicts Pair

Most Testimony of Machine Convinces Jury

Defendants Believed Members of Portland Gang

Vengeance was promised yesterday by two Austrian "Black Hand" agents when they were found guilty by a jury in U. S. District Judge Tripper's court of conspiracy to use the penalty is a fine of $10,000, or imprisonment in a Federal penitentiary for two years, or both. Sarge had been at liberty on bail, but after conviction both men were taken to the County Jail.

Jack Haddock and Frank Sarge, two accused men, were charged with writing three letters to President W. Braun, president of the "Black Hand" gang, demanding payment of $10,000, and containing threats of death. The star witness for the prosecution was the senile typewriter found in the home of the two men, and upon which the threatening letters were said to have been written. The silent testimony of the typewriter with its characteristic characteristics so convinced the jury of the Austrian's guilt that a verdict was reached on the first ballot.

MEMBERS OF GANG

At the request of the defendants, who were allowed ten days before judgment was passed to make their minds whether they would plead guilty.

According to government attorneys both of the men are members of the "Black Hand" gang that terrorized the citizens of Portland, Ore., a little more than a year ago.

It was shown by the testimony of both Haddock and Sarge that they came to Los Angeles in the spring of 1931 and had since been making their homes in a Slavonian boarding-house at 352 North Broadway.

The court said that the men were found guilty were the writers of three letters, dated January 23, 1932, and February 23, 1932, addressed to Mr. Braun. Both of the men had been employed by a local contractor to do some work in connection with the repair of a building on the corner of 10th and Main streets at San Marino, where they were acquainted with the postman who delivered the letters.

It was shown that the men were in family, and laid their plans to start money from him.

DEMAND $20,000

The first letter demanded the payment of $20,000, the money to be placed in a gunny sack behind a billboard in the immediate vicinity of the Slavonian boarding-house. The second and third letters demanded the payment of $10,000.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH)

BAKERSFIELD, May 8. — Incensed at a statement made by Sensley A. Abbott, chairman of the Board of Supervisors of Kern county, whose name appeared upon the official Ku Klux Klan list, that he was "proud he is a Klansman," and by the fact that four members of the City Board of Trustees of the City of Bakersfield, who were Taft, a justice of the peace and several other officers were named

JAIL ASSERTED CYCLOPS

Four Others Face Criminal Charges Following Bakersfield Klan Probe

not an orderly investigation and arrest, was introduced.

Fidel Elduayen, the head of the Elduayen family, and his wife, Angela Elduayen, were the first two witnesses. They were followed by Bernarda Elduayen, 13 years of age, and her sister, Maria Elduayen, 15. Each entered the grand jury room amid silence and received the closest attention from the members of the inquisi-torial body, according to reports.

The District Attorney's office is now in the nature of "corpus delicti."

Fidel Elduayen entered the grand jury room a few minutes after 10 a.m. His story, as related by him to The Times reporters the morning after the raid, is said to have been played before the grand jury in detail. It was Fidel Elduayen and his brother, Mathias Elduayen, who were taken from their home, bound with ropes and later with handcuffs, placed in an automobile and taken to Ingwood and later to Redondo. Fidel, in the story, said that he sold any liquor to the "riders" or that he had any will on the premises.

Elduayen's testimony was given to the grand jury through an interpreter.

TELLS SAME STORY

That she was awakened by the rush of the masked men into her home, told to get out of bed and then pulled out of the room by one of the masked individuals was the gist of Mrs. Elduayen's story.

The asserted rough treatment by the masked law-crushers caused her to faint on the floor of the adjoining room, Mrs. Elduayen's story declared. While the testimony given by the woman to the grand jury was not disclosed, it was learned that her story to the grand jury did not vary from her previous statements.

The testimony of the two Elduayen girls, known to be considering his brief sojourn in this county, Dr. Mason's whereabouts were kept secret and he was guarded for safety by peace officers.

With Vitell's arrest and incarceration five men face criminal charges in connection with the Klan activities here. All are asserted to be members of the Klan.

The grand jury will meet again at the court house tomorrow to resume the Klan investigation. It was considered probable in official circles that additional indictments may follow.

ALIBI DEFENSE IS BURCH PLEA

discovered Burch and identified him as the man she had talked to.

WITNESS IS POSITIVE

Mrs. Malloy was unshaken during her cross examination by Dep.
Dist. Atty. Kores. He attempted time and again to trip the witness as to time and date. But she was positive of every fact. Mrs. Malloy is a white haired, soft-voiced woman who lives with her son in Watts. Her three daughters live there too.

That was one surprise. The next one was Mr. Brann. At first glance he is a double of Burch.
He is slight, lean faced — although Arthur is quite plump now — has a high forehead and resembles the defendant closely.

On the first of last July he bought a Dodge roadster. He produced the contract to show that he owned it. Then he bought a straw hat. He showed the cancelled check on a down-town store to prove that he had purchased a Palm Beach suit. The cancelled check that paid for the clothes was then shown. Next he gave Mr. Schenck a picture of himself in his car taken last July.

"Where were you on the night of August 5, last?" Mr. Schenck asked.

"I was driving my car near the beach," Mr. Brann replied.

He then related the circumstances. He said that he had punctured when he got near the mouth of the canyon and drew over to the side of the road. His car was headed out at an angle, just as Sumner declared it was.
Then he changed a tire. During this time he used the headlights on his car.

Mr. Brann lost an arm during the war. It was necessary for him to change the tire with one arm. It took him some time. He stated that he believed that he got the puncture repaired about 8 p.m. After he had changed the tire, he did not vary from his story. He said that he was tired him greatly. The lights were still burning, he said.

CAR APPROACHES

A car came under the tree, he stated, as he sat in the roadster.
The lights of his car hit the driver of the approaching car full in the face. The other car drew alongside.

"You", the voice in the new car shouted, "why don't you trade those lights for something that won't blind a driver?"

Brann testified that the driver of the other car mumbled a few more words.

It was naturally ashamed of myself for having those lights burning that way," Mr. Brann testified. "I turned over and looked at the dimmers. Then the other car drove off.

Told the second link in the alibi,
was not completed as it was time for court to adjourn. Further examination of the Burch case was made this morning. Then he will be cross-examined by Mr. Kores.

Today three other links in the alibi will be forged, according to Mr. Schenck. In the testimony of three people who were with him at the time of the shooting. It was stated by Richard Schenck, an attorney at law, that the three today will back up the two witnesses of yesterday.

Fahy-Ford Bowler Sets New Individual Record

Northern Teams Will Try to Cop Honors Tonight

Doubles and Individuals to be Played Today

Featured by Jim Shafer's sensational performance in the singles, the Pacific Coast Bowling Congress continued enthusiastically yesterday afternoon and evening at the Angelus Academy. Shafer hung up a new record for the congress by rolling a score of 763 in individual competition, and jumped into the lead with a total of 1841 pins for the congress. He plays with the Fahy-Ford team.

Shafer's first game was his best, counting 267 points. He scored two spares and nine strikes. He chalked up 315 in his second, and 211 in the third, bringing his total up to a handsome figure.

A concentrated attack on the Globe Ice Cream stand, will be made tonight by ten teams from the north. At present the dessert bunch seems to have the team honors sewed up, but something may happen when the northerners get tuned up.

This afternoon doubles and individuals will be bowled, and tomorrow the remaining matches in these divisions are to be played.

Yesterday's scores follow:

ARIZONANS TO STAGE SHOOT

PHOENIX, May 8.—From May 16 to 21 will be held a series of State rifle matches at the National Guard range, six miles east of Phoenix. A score of new targets are being added, with inclusion of pistol ranges. The first four days are to be taken over by the matches of the high school and normal school cadet organizations, each of which will send three representatives, who will be quartered in a camp on the range. For them will be twenty-five prizes and 150 medals. May 20 and 21 will be the National Guard and State Rifle Association matches, with a dozen cups and prizes available to winning teams and individuals. Heretofore these annual civilian matches have been at Tucson, where the local rifle club has an excellent range. Scores always have ranged very high and the teams selected for competition in the national matches usually get into the first ten, though matched against the Regular Army teams and teams from the more populous States of the East.

SPORTING & LIFE

BY W. A. FRELON

ROUNDELAYS

He who thinks slowly, plays no game at all—

Who thinks too quickly, overruns the ball—

But, slow or rapid, there is one thing sure—

The stands will hand you one loud caterwaul!

Names are deceptive. Pittsburgh's player, Grimm, Agile of gait and shrew of limb, Is never grim at all—a merry laugh Is the chief feature you'll perceive in him!

Be not discouraged at your home club's flop—

One of eight alone can gain the top—

And if eight clubs were winners all the time,

There'd be no ball games—they would shut the shop!

VASUN AW'S STILL IN DE RING

Colored fighters are like wrestlers—they last a long, long time. Jeff Clark, "the fighting ghost," is still boxing, and he was a veteran when Sam Langford was a baby.

Ruth and Hornsby, so say the players all, are the two biggest gate attractions now in baseball. Ruth in a class all by himself, Hornsby the leader of all others. Two of the greatest ball players in the game, Roush and Slater, are not remarkable as gate-cards—they draw little money, and just as many people, outside their own cities, come to see the clubs without them as with them "in the array. Lack of flash, sparkle and color, that is why. Roush and Slater, mighty as they are, have no special touches of fire and fury in their make-up. Everybody goes to see Ruth, just because of his home-run proclivities; Hornsby, since he developed into a free-swinging smasher of heavy hits, gets the trade. Ty Cobb was for years the star gate attraction of the game, and is still a card, but Ruth now ranks first and Hornsby second.

How encouraging it is to a pitcher, after he has permitted only one hit on one less on ten balls, to see another pitcher trot out in the bullpen and begin warming up!

The Pirates tell one on "Cannonball" Fork, a Cincinnati semipro of great renown among the rising generation. He was taken to the training camp, and, when addressed as Cannonball, tried to live up to the name. On the first day of practice, he pitched his arm off; on the second day, he couldn't lift his cap—and on the third day he wired his folks for money to come home!

That wonderful pitcher, Carl Mays, makes the batters resemble poor jays—

He is clever and fast—

As a hurricane's blast—

But such temperament in his way!

Why not make baseball less dangerous? Why not compel baserunners to trot a horn before sliding?

Jack Dempsey is being honored in England. Won't it be great if Jack learns English as he spoke abroad, and comes back saying: "Aw fawcay the bally idea! Awed me to fight for a blooming 50-000 guineas!"

"The most harmless and inoffensive of all land animals," says the natural history, "is the Brazilian tapir." Oh, we don't know. How about the British heavy-weight?

The antipathy of the dog for the cat is well known—but how about the antipathy of Johnny Buff for a decision battle?

more than to actually affect his play. Richards showed the best tennis we have seen him play. Doubles tend to bring out his best tennis, particularly his volleying, which was masterful.

We were somewhat disappointed that Strachan did not serve more consistently. On one or two occasions he was particularly brilliant, but for the most part not up to standard. His volleying also was not as severe as I have seen from him. His forehand drive, however, was going very well and saved many a crucial point.

Johnston was the ball wheel of the team, and was wonderfully consistent throughout the match. His volleying was play worthy of comment, being unusually severe and scoring outright time and again for clean-earned points. His guard strokes were going with the same old machine-like precision. In fact, the tennis Johnston has displayed this far this year augurs well for his success later on in the season. Here's more power to him.

giving either Johnston or Strachan a chance to find themselves. Johnston served the opening game of the fifth set and got going much better, winning it handily, with some fine volleying. Tilden followed by serving awfully well and the game score was one-all. He and Richards proceeded to get through Strachan's service, but not without a terrific struggle.

WEST RETALIATES

The West then quickly retaliated by breaking through Richards's delivery, and the game was two all. Johnston then dropped his serve and Tilden won after some of the most sensational tennis of the match. The commanding lead of four games to two was thus secured by the East, and the West's chances did not look so bright. A ray of encouragement came when Strachan next served. He suddenly located the court with his hard first ball and his opponents were powerless to handle him. This proved to be the last game for the westerners, however the eastern boys running the next two out with the set 4-3 and match Johnston served the last game of the match and put up a terrific struggle to save the day. He saved everything he could in this game and the spectators were given an opportunity to see him with the throttle wide open. The breaks were simply against him and his partner in one or two very critical places, and they were none out of a game they deserved to win.

TILDEN NOT UP TO SNUFF

In reviewing the match and commenting on each player in it, we find Tilden perhaps not showing quite the best of which he is capable, but it must be admitted he was not far below form. Overhead he was a lot better than I have seen him since his arrival in the West. Early in the match he developed a slight pull of a tendon in his right arm, which seemed to annoy him

CALIFORNIANS GO EAST SOON

Stanford and U.C. to Send Two Full Track Squads

National Trials Will be Held on May 27-28

Fans Predict High Places for Coast Cinder Diggers

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, May 8.—Coach Walter Christie's University of California track team, and ten of Coach R. L. Templeton's Stanford athletes, representing the two western members of the I.C.A.A.A. will for the first time send two full teams from the West into the national track and field championships in the big meet, the general facts show the hopes of the westerners not without some firm basis.

With ten men the University of California won first place last year, taking 27½ points. Only one of the Blue and Gold athletes, who piled up this total, Peaky Sprott, who placed second in the half-mile, is missing from this year's line-up. His absence will be more than offset by the presence of Boren, probable first place winner in the broad jump, and Jack Merchant, sure bet in the hammer throw. California, with twelve men, will be several points stronger than last year.

SCORE FIFTEEN POINTS
With four men, Stanford scored 15 points, placing fifth in the meet last May. Between California and Stanford were Harvard, 21 points; Dartmouth, 20, and Pennsylvania, 19½. Earl Thompson, who scored two of Dartmouth's points in the hurdles, is out of college. Krogness and Gourdln were the heavy winners for Harvard, and they are also through. Ebb and Maxim, Pennsylvania stand-bys, as well, are not entered this year.

All three of last spring's runners up are weakened by the loss

CHAMP LIKES GAY PAREE

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

LONDON, May 8.—Jack Dempsey, like travelers of all nationalities and professions, has apparently fallen a victim of the lure of Europe's play city, Paris. He was to have left Paris Sunday, but postponed his departure until today. He found met Irving Berlin, Fanny Ward and Jack Dean, her husband, and so he has postponed his leaving again until tomorrow, when they will all travel to England together.

The press here says that the public would not stand for a return match with Carpentier. Manager Kearns replies that the present offers sound like business, but the promoters apparently think differently.

Jack is due to visit Harry Preston at Brighton and he must bid Paris farewell, however reluctant, if he is to fill his engagements here and attend the fight at Olympia Thursday.

KIRKSEY COMING UP
Morris Kirksey won the 100-yard dash on a wooden leg a year ago. He broke down in the California-Stanford meet April 22, but since he has given himself the hardest training season of his career, and he seems to be coming up.

Cap. Bob Hutchinson of California won five points in the two sprints for the winning 2½ mile. The diminutive Card, Sudden, beat him in both races April 22. LeConoy, Lafayette and Woodring, Syracuse, are the two best eastern sprinters, the former with his 9.4-5 seconds record in the 100. Woodring seems in better shape, than when he won Paddock in the 200 meters at Antwerp. By comparative time Sudden stands a fair chance to place high, but he is of slight stature and may show the effects of running the numerous heats necessary in the Cambridge races. Sprinters are required to run a total of 340 yards to place in the 100 and 200, and the more powerful athletes have an advantage at the outset. If Kirksey gets into shape he should register well.

Fans Wonder if Former Net King Can Come Back

Champ Says "Comet" Should Not be Discarded

Tennis Star Believes Maury No Longer Contender

BY WILLIAM T. TILDEN II.

Champion Tennis Player of the World, 1920-21

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

BELLEVILLE, May 8.—There is no figure in the tennis world today that occupies the unique position which Morris Evans McLoughlin held in the heyday of his career. This marvelous California player, who in 1914 successfully withstood the attack of Norman Brookes and Anthony Wilding, is today but a memory. Can McLoughlin come back? This question is asked hundreds of times every year by his many admirers. The great "comet" of the past was the finest player the world has ever known.

SHOULD PILE UP SCORE

Boren, Merchant, Muller, and Trever should ring up a wonderful total for the Bears with their broad jumping. Anything over 22 feet 6 inches is good for a place, and all four Bruins can approach 23 feet.

Treyer and Muller have a chance at high jump for the Blue and Gold, though the disabled Cardinal Howell, was the only entrant capable of giving Brown of Dartmouth a race for first. Brown makes 6 feet 5 inches regularly.

While Oxy Henderson is a capable "coma-through" quarter-mile who won twice for California, William Stanford, who beat him decisively April 22, is an equal favorite for a high place in the 440 at Cambridge. For California, Dorr should place in the two-mile, and Norris in the pole vault. Black, Stanford, is a vaulting possibility. The general survey shows Stanford and California both to have excellent chances in the national championships. But accidents and breaks are frequent in a meet of more than thirty colleges, and the Westerners must also take the odds of the long trip and acclimation.

As Morris Kirksey has said, to be a champion performer, an athlete must be a champion runner. No less a champion, and then must carry a

ARM IS BOUND

It is my belief that McLoughlin has pulled something in his shoulder which today catches or binds his arm, depriving him of his free swing. McLoughlin himself either does not know this or will not admit it, for he claims that there is no physical cause for his change of stroke. No less an authority than Norman Brookes said to me during the Davis cup matches in 1920 that the inherent weaknesses of his game came to the surface and his opponents enabled to place in his armor of defense and break down his magnificent attack. Yet McLoughlin, who still figures as a contender for the national championship itself. Off the ground McLoughlin's strokes are better today than when he was at the height of his career, for he takes more pains in his delivery than he did in the old days. He is a "comet" volleying is still as reliable, if not quite as severe, as formerly. His overhead would turn with the return of his service. McLoughlin is a heavy man—far too heavy for his (Brookes) play at the present time. Yet I believe that he could train down to his former fighting trim between now and September, when the Davis cup matches and national championships are to be played. Will he do it?

MAY NOT MAKE ATTEMPT

There are rumors of McLoughlin's attempt to come back floating around the Pacific Coast. Frankly, I do not believe he will make the attempt. There is something about McLoughlin which will never again be his. It is the old desire to win and to reach the top. Since he has married, his interests now are centered in his family and his business. To him, which once was of primary importance, is today and always will be a secondary thing. This is great play. Unless he can find the same stimulus for work in the game which he had in the days of 1914, no matter how perfect his condition or magnificent his actual playing, he still could not come back. McLoughlin himself realizes this and is wise enough to avoid another unsuccessful attempt. It seems a pity that such a magnificent sportsman and notable figure in the world of sports as McLoughlin has not the permanent possession of at least one national cup. He holds two legs of the present trophy and no one would be a more popular figure than Mac if he could come back this year and win. Yet, I am sure that I am voicing the opinion of his countless admirers when I say that I only hope for his return to his finest physical condition and has a desire to again state the heights which so long were his.

SOULES AND DAVIS TO MEET AGAIN FRIDAY

Travie Davis, claimant of the Coast welter title, has been given another opportunity to show what he can do against Bud Soules in the main event at the American Legion Hollywood arena, next Friday night. Last week, Davis lost a very close decision to the local lad, in fact, it was so close, that many of the fans figured that a draw might not have been amiss. Jimmy Dunning and Eddie McKey, 115-pounders, are Matchmaker Frank Crowley's selection for the semi-wind-up. Leo Matlock and Sailor Rowsey will box in the feature preliminary at 155 pounds.

Twenty Questions About OILDAG

OILDAG

The World's Best Lubricant

What it is—What it does—How it does it

By DR. E. G. ACHESON

What is Oildag?

1. Oildag is a compound of deflocculated graphite and oil.

What is "deflocculated" graphite?

2. Graphite reduced to particles so small that they cannot be seen with the highest powers of the ordinary microscope. Herein lies the secret of Oildag's value.

What is the object of this ultra-microscopic subdivision of the graphite?

3. Graphite in this deflocculated condition is capable of remaining evenly diffused in liquids lighter than itself for an indefinite period, always provided that the liquid is free of acid, alkali or any other electrolyte.

Why does it not settle?

4. That question involves a matter upon which some of the greatest scientific minds of the day have not yet come to agreement. In the opinion of some, the graphite is reduced to molecular fineness; but, whatever the reason, the remarkable fact is that it does not settle in indispensible.

Is the graphite dissolved?

5. No; it still remains solid matter, though its particles are infinitesimally small. This extraordinary property of remaining solid while acting like a liquid is the basis of Oildag's operation.

What is Oildag used for?

6. To lubricate engines and machinery.

Will it lubricate my automobile as well as a high grade oil I am now using?

7. It will do it better than the very best oil you can buy.

How will I be able to know it is lubricating better than the oil I have been using?

8. By the very decided changes you will note in the working of your car. When using Oildag properly you will have:

1. Clean spark plugs.
2. Decreased carbon deposits in the cylinders.
3. More power from the gasoline consumed.
4. Climax grades on "high" you formerly took on "low."
5. "Can" lubricant required.
6. No smoke from exhaust.
7. No wear of piston rings, cylinder walls or bearings.
8. Increased life of car.
9. Repair bills reduced if not entirely eliminated.

These are remarkable claims. They certainly strike the high points and I would like to know how it is possible for Oildag to produce such results. How is it done?

9. Before answering your question let us try to account for troubles you are now very likely experiencing. Dirty spark plugs, carbon deposits and smoke from the exhaust are largely due to lubricating oil getting by the piston rings into the combustion chamber, where the oil is decomposed, and this same act of passing the rings wastes the oil. The wear of the piston rings, cylinder walls and bearings is positive evidence the oil you are using does not at all times keep the sliding metal surfaces separated; hence it is not always lubricating.

That seems to me to be a clear statement of causes and effects, but how can Oildag cure these evils?

10. By putting anti-friction surfaces on the rubbing parts of the engine. These remarkable surfaces are called "graphoid" surfaces.

How are they produced?

11. When using Oildag, particles of the deflocculated graphite come in actual contact with the metal surfaces the Oildag is lubricating. When these particles adhere firmly to the metal, and in the time the entire surface of the metal is covered with a layer of these graphite particles.

Will they not be rubbed off by the moving metal?

12. By careful tests it has been proved in repeated tests and a half hours' violent rubbing to remove particles, while they were being pressed together with a pressure of nine hundred pounds per square inch. Several instances have occurred where automobiles have run on ordinary road grease for sixty miles without any oil being used. They run on dry graphoid surfaces.

That being the case it would not be necessary to continue the use of Oildag after the graphoid surfaces have formed. Would it?

13. It would not be wise to cut off all supply of Oildag for while these surfaces have great endurance, it is difficult to think they will not in time wear off, and when it would occur would be uncertain. For safety's sake a small amount of free deflocculated graphite should be present to react with the surfaces. Continue the use of Oildag as you would oil.

Is there any grit in Oildag?

14. Not any. The graphite from which the deflocculated product is created in the highest purity, at a temperature that is the highest produced on earth, with the single exception of the diamond. This is a temperature at which every known substance, with the exception of carbon, is converted into vapor and passes off into the atmosphere.

Cannot these graphoid surfaces be made with natural graphite, such as is dug out of the ground, or the small flake graphite found in rocks?

15. Natural graphite always contains impurities which injure it as a lubricant. The graphoid surface is not formed with particles of graphite, but with fact, molecules. A mass or particle consisting of a number of graphite molecules, even if as small as a molecule, will not adhere to a metal surface so firmly that it cannot be wiped off, whereas a single molecule of graphoid will.

Does this deflocculated graphite enter into the metals to produce the graphoid surface?

16. No; it remains entirely on the surface, where it is held by molecular forces in the chain between adsorption. It is quite evident that as long as the surface of molecular graphite remains the metal cannot wear away.

Can you tell by eyesight when a graphoid surface has been formed?

17. It is not easy to distinguish a graphoid surface and particularly difficult when formed on iron, as the same as the iron. The coating is exceedingly thin and the color much the same as the iron.

Will not graphoid surfaces decrease the clearance spaces, make closer fits and increase the liability of heated bearings?

18. A graphoid surface surrounding a shaft will increase the diameter less than one two-hundredths of an inch. This increase need not be considered.

Will Oildag work equally well with bearings of any metal?

19. Yes; it does not act chemically on the metal. Is Oildag suitable for a "synphon" system of lubrication?

20. Yes. It has been proved by an eminent English authority that deflocculated graphite systems operate perfectly with the oil carrying it.

UNION SCORED BY COUNCILMEN

Machinists "Raid" on City Treasury Charged

Investigation of Municipal Machine Shop Demanded

Musket's Ire Aroused by Big Bills Submitted

The city's machine shop, which is technically an open shop but which is admittedly 100 per cent unionized, and under the domination of the machinists' union, is under fire now at the City Hall, with Chairman Musket of the Finance Committee demanding an investigation of the administration and the cost of work performed at the shop before additional city funds are appropriated for its operation.

That the labor union administration of the shop had had a perfectly lovely time running up big bills on city automobile repair work, exceeding, in some cases, the amount for which the city could have purchased new cars, is the assertion of those who are urging a change of policy.

BILLS START WAR

The present war on the machine shop was occasioned by bills for "extras" on body-building work. On Feb. 10, 1921, the City Council appropriated $4200 for the construction at the shop of three Dodge ambulance bodies and accessories for the police department. When the work was completed, the machine shop bill was for $2545.53, or $1145.53 more than the original estimate.

On July 26, 1921, the City Council appropriated $850 for another Dodge ambulance body for the police department for use in the Lincoln Heights Division. When the shop bill came in it was for $1914.11, or $1064.11 more than had been set aside by the city for the work.

These two bills for extra expenses aroused the ire of Chairman Musket of the Finance Committee, and at a meeting of the committee on the 3rd inst., Councilman Mallard said that he was opposed to any additional automobile bodies being built at the municipal shop, while Chairman Musket went further. He voted against the appropriation of $1145.53 to cover the extra charges on the automobile bodies, and said that Efficiency Director Eldridge should be ordered to make a complete investigation of conditions at the shop and the charges made for the work in comparison with the cost of similar jobs at private operated plants in Los Angeles.

With President Criswell and Councilman Mallard voting for the appropriation, it was recommended and approved by the Council. Councilman Musket again voting "No."

TOO MUCH LABOR

The bills submitted by Master Mechanic J. V. Alsworth, superintendent of the shop, contain those asking for an investigation, the long-standing charge laid at the door of union labor that it seeks to load on all jobs every possible unnecessary workman. For the construction of three of the police department ambulance bodies, including equipment such as mattresses and cots, medicine chests and seats, the shop charged $2169.27 while the labor bill on this job was $2545.53. For the fourth ambulance body, the shop charged the police department $1586.26, while the labor bill on this job was $1155.08.

The city's machine shop, at which Councilman Musket is directing his demand for an investigation, is located at Avenue 19 and Pasadena avenue. All city-owned automobiles, including those of the police and fire departments and other departments, are repaired there. Mr. Alsworth, the master mechanic, gets a salary of $230 a month, and he has under him twenty-eight automobile and general machinists, all of whom, it is generally taken for granted at the City Hall, are members of the machinists' union, their wages being $7 a day. Then there is a foreman at $225 a month, a blacksmith and helper, three painters, a pattern maker, checks and other employees to a total of forty. The shop cost the city for the first ten months of the present year $120,000 for the wages of these workers, and $60,000 for materials used, or a total of $180,000.

CHARGE TREASURY RAID

The unions have used the shop as an easy camping ground for workmen, it is declared, and have encouraged the city to permit the enlargement of the plant into an automobile body-making factory. The scheme which has been used was to give to department heads estimates as to the cost of body-making work and these would be comparatively low and within the department's budget appropriation. Then when the work was ordered, it is declared, the Labor Temple was sent the glad tidings that a big job had come into the city shop, extra men were hired in such numbers that they fell over each other while working around the city car, and then when the bill finally came in it was for a much larger amount than had been estimated and jobs had been given to union machinists. This has been going along for months, but when Councilman Musket took office as chairman of the Finance Committee of the City Council he soon discovered the game that was being played by the unions, and his negative vote on the police department ambulance appropriation was his signal that trouble was coming for the unions' attempt to raid the city treasury. There is a case now under investigation by Councilman Musket of repair work done at the city shop on a truck, where the bill was $1800, a sum for which the city could have obtained a new truck by giving the old one as part payment.

If the scheme to turn the repair shop into an automobile body-building plant did not prove successful—and Chairman Musket and Councilman Mallard have already called a prompt halt to it—the union's next plan was to build boats at the plant at fancy figures. If the Labor Temple could get away with it.

COMMANDER OF "PLEAD OF G. A. R. IS GUILTY" DAY CITY GUEST IN L.A. COURT

Dr. Lewis S. Pilcher to Attend Encampment at Riverside Today

Prisoners in County Jail Suggest Innovation to Get Quick Action

A "plead guilty" day—when all prisoners who are reasonably satisfied of their own guilt will have an opportunity to say so—is to be inaugurated this week in Judge Shenk's court.

The innovation was suggested by several inmates of the County Jail. So crowded is that institution, with nearly 500 prisoners awaiting trial, that Judge Shenk's calendar is jammed with cases. As a result those who intend to plead guilty have to wait in jail for an extended period before receiving sentence.

"If we gotta serve time, why hang around here?" ask the prisoners. "Let's get at the rock pile and have it over."

The "plead guilty" day will not be started, it was explained, with the idea of departmental commendation of the defendant commander. Mr. Crouch, chief mustering officer, J. C. Mordough and Fred Benfield.

Dr. Pilcher served in the Civil War as a hospital steward, U.S.A. Twelve years later he served five years as assistant surgeon of the United States Navy. For the past fifty years he has been associated with numerous New York hospitals. In 1915 he was surgeon-general of the G. A. R. Since 1915 he was for many years editor of Annals of Surgery.

Other conventions of affiliated orders will be held in Riverside during the G. A. R. encampment, including the Women's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Sons of Veterans and the auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans.

Light Showers Boosts Season's Rainfall Total

Sections of the city and outlying districts caught as much as 1.0 of an inch of rain between 5 and 10 p.m. yesterday. Toward midnight there was a mild drizzle to the north and east of the city, with occasional showers in the west. Los Angeles had .06 of an inch for the storm, at midnight. The season total 19.97 inches.

High winds along the coast in Northern and central California were accompanied by light rains which grew heavier as the wind decreased in velocity. At Santa Barbara only a trace of rain had fallen early last night. The season total of rainfall there now is 19.52 inches as compared with 14.60 last year at this time.

At Pasadena a drizzle commenced at 5 p.m., and became a light shower an hour later. The fall there registered .06 of an inch, bringing the season total to 23.66, with 14.77 inches as the total for this date last year. Monterey reported .18 of an inch up to 10 o'clock last night, which makes the season total there 36.66 inches as compared to 17.56 inches last year.

A slight sprinkle was reported at Pomona, Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside and Santa Ana. Heavy rain began falling over Northern California last evening, with no sign of immediate stopping.

It is said certain crops were in need of water following several weeks of dry north winds. Rain is predicted for today.

NEW TRAM ROUTES ARE DISCUSSED

Proposed Extension of Lines to Hollywood District Subject of Report

Increased street-car transportation facilities for the Hollywood district, including the proposed extension of the Los Angeles Railway Company's lines, were discussed in a comprehensive report submitted yesterday to the Board of Public Utilities by Chief Engineer Osborne. Two routes have been proposed for the extension of the yellow car lines, one being for the building of the Vermont-avenue cross-town line from First street to Griffith Park, and the other being the extension of the line on Melrose avenue from Larchmont street, via Gower or Vine street to Hollywood Boulevard. Of these routes, Chief Engineer Osborne recommends the Vermont-avenue extension. This will cost $400,000 for track and overhead equipment, and the operating cost to the company would be $4000 a month.

The board has denied an application for an extension of the Fifth-third-street car line from South Park to Long Beach Boulevard and taken similar action on a proposed extension of the line on Thirty-seventh Place, between Vermont and Western avenues, and on the extension of the line on Main street, between Vermont and Main street, and on the extension of the line on Main street, between Main and San Pedro street. The board will not justify the expense to which the company would be forced to make.

QUEER FEELINGS AT MIDDLE AGE

Women Should Know how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helps at This Trying Period

Schoobyan, Wisconsin. — "I was run down, tired and nervous. I could not even do my own housework, could not sleep at night and all kinds of queer thoughts would come to me. Finally I gave up going to the doctor and a friend told me of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first bottle I could sleep better and I have kept on improving ever since. I have taken seven bottles now and am so happy that I am all over these bad feelings."

Mrs. B. LANSER, 1639 N. 3rd St., Schoobyan, Wisconsin.

For the woman entering middle age Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can be of much benefit. During this time of life certain changes take place which sometimes develop into serious trouble.

Melancholia, nervousness, irritability, headache and dizziness are some of the symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a natural restorative, especially adapted to assist nature in carrying you safely past this time. Why not give it a fair trial?

MRS. EXLEY TO BE CANDIDATE

Name Suggested for State Federation Head

Plans Are Made for Better Film Week Here

New Citizens' Celebration on July Fourth

BY MYRA NYE

As plums are picked from plum trees so surely are candidates for office evolved from conventions.

Mrs. Sidney Thomas Exley appeared for the first time yesterday as a candidate for State president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the convention to be held in Eureka in 1921, it was at the delightful reciprocity day function given by the Monday Afternoon Club of Covina, when State and district officers were guests of honor, with Mrs. C. E. Paige, president of the club, presiding at the luncheon and during the program hour that followed.

Rumors of Mrs. Exley's candidacy have circulated but invariably they were followed by denial.

Yesterday Mrs. Exley said in answer to a direct question that she may run if her friends desire her to become a candidate.

Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the Los Angeles district, was one of the luncheon speakers, reviewing briefly the big meet and announcing the outcome of it, which is "Citizenship Day," a natural sequence to the theme of the convention, "Citizenship at Work and at Play."

ALL CLUES TO JOIN

"Every woman's club in the United States will have a share in this celebration for our new citizens on the Fourth of July," said Mrs. Urquhart, and I urge every one of you to help make Independence Day observed as it has never been observed before.

The district president also urged that the club women enthusiastically enter into the plans for "Good Film Week," which began yesterday, initiated by the State Federation.

"Make the Best Film Day Best" is the big idea and to this end Mrs. Urquhart asked the women to attend the theaters where the best pictures are shown, speaking favorably of the pictures are good and saying nothing if they are bad.

Other guests of honor at the president's table included: Mrs. Charles McKelvey, district parliamentarian; Mrs. H. F. Spencer, corresponding secretary of Los Angeles; Mrs. J. A. Trehwell, vice-president of Montebello; Mrs. Williams Sherwood, president of the Ramona Women's Club of Monterey Park; Mrs. George L. Spence of the Monrovia Women's Club; Mrs. Ellen Beach Yaw Cannon, Mrs. George Jerome Reynolds, Mrs. C. E. Leighton and Mrs. William P. Nye of Covina.

Fully 200 sat down to the well-appointed luncheon of the arrangement of which Mrs. W. W. Nash was chairman. Many more gathered to enjoy the program which followed.

GIVE ONE-ACT COMEDY

The "Pipers Pay," a comedy in one act by Margaret Cameron was presented very creditably by members of the club directed by Miss M. Baxter of the faculty of the high school.

Pretty blonde Mrs. George Kerckhoff, a member of the younger society set of Covina, took the part of Mrs. John Burton (Piper) who as a souvenir friend really took the spoons about which the action centers.

The actress, who appeared as Mrs. Charles Dover (Piper's wife), was a member of the distinguished Mrs. Heyford-Carr, Helen Broadwell, a member of the club.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

IS WATER FATTENING?

Yesterday I told you the definition of the term calorie—that it is the unit of measure of heat, or the energy value of foods, and that it is that amount of heat necessary to raise one pound of water 4 degrees Fahrenheit, or one kilogram 1 degree Centigrade.

It does not, like the thermometer, measure the degree of heat, but the amount of heat. For instance, a thermometer would register the same degree of heat for a pint of water of a certain temperature as it would for a gallon the same temperature, but the amount of heat would be registered as eight times that in calories. You can see the difference.

But let me say here that water has no calorific value in the body. In other words, water is not a source of energy.

It is absolutely necessary for life, but it has no food value. Water is composed of hydrogen and oxygen, and starches and sugars are composed of the same elements but with carbon added. The lack of the carbon keeps the water from being a food in the sense we use that word.

So drink all you need. You will find you are not nearly so thirsty when you are eating less, for the system does not demand so much to keep the blood and the tissues fluid in the right concentration.

It is generally thought that most people drink too little, and huge amounts are advised. I am wondering if it can be overdone. I think not, especially while reducing.

If you take it with your meals, do not use it to wash your food down, therefore do not drink while there is any food in the mouth.

I met a young woman in Italy, beautifully slender, who said that she got that way by smoking a cigarette and drinking two glasses of water just before her meals.

So you see in her case, instead of water being fattening, she thought it was reducing. Questioning her, I found she did not eat so much; therefore, it was not the water nor the cigarette. Great distance be it from me to advise smoking to reduce. We have had habits enough already. So remember this:

ment of which Mrs. W. W. Nash was chairman. Many more gathered to enjoy the program which followed.

THE NEW JUMPER DRESS.

The interesting feature of this jumper dress is the inserted pocket, the braid trimming running right down to the end of the hem. The low cut neckline and deep armholes give the suspender effect over the shoulders which the designer has brought out very effectively. And the straight line effect produced by the suspender outline and the braiding gives the figure the slim, girlish appearance so much sought after. The guimpe which can be made with long or short sleeves, is included in the pattern.

Invitation by RadioPicturesque "Forty-Nine" Fete PlannedGirl Attorney Sketches the Romantic Days

Sketching the romantic days of '49 and inviting the Pacific Slope to attend the pioneer celebration in Sacramento from the 23rd to the 28th inst., Miss Silvey-Pearle Tinsler, Sacramento attorney, yesterday broadcast an address from the Times radio station, stressing the picturesque and unique features of the mammoth fete, she said:

"Greetings, dear people. I greet you one and all. I am Miss Sacramento, and I come to you from out the golden past, bringing to you a message from my home in the golden valley of dreams, my home that seventy-three years ago opened wide its doors and bid your forefathers welcome.

"Our mountains freely gave them their gold; our valleys their golden harvest, and our streams brought their golden sunlight, and our God the golden right to smile—to live and love. The invitation was then most heartily accepted. From out the vast somewhere came mapless, fearless men, builders of empires, seekers of romance, adventurers, soldiers of fortune, all seeking, hoping.

"GAVE THEIR HEARTS
Many received, and in return for the gold they got they gave far greater values. They gave their hearts, their lives, their all in all that their State—our State—might live and be a beacon for the world.

"But the old days—my days—are not but dreams. My heart is not like your dream. My men, bearded, rough, in overalls and boots, if here today would be men like me, and yet a host of you owe all to such as these. But my days are gone. They are but a memory.

"Who has not felt within himself the longing for the days that can come no more? If only for a day, to feel that mad desire that lures men on and on in their conquest for gold—to step on a virgin soil and build a living, lasting monument, and live that free and lawless life that can come no more.

"BRING BACK DAYS"
"We cannot come to you, so come to us. I will turn back the hands of time, draw aside the veil of years and bid you welcome to my home again, just as it was in the days of '49.

"The days of the pick, the shovel and the pan;
The days of 'I will' and the days of 'I can'.

"Oh, dear people, come, follow me once again, back to yesterday. Forget for a time your present-day lives. Come, dress as I did. Get out your beards and your square hats. Men, forego fine clothes, the shirt and the tie, and as your great granddaddies were, be mine.

"COME, COME, COME"
"We'll try to bring the old days back again. The old dance hall, the general store, the Eagle Opera house; the horses and the oxen, and the faithful little burro. Gambling—well, maybe 'Put and Take'.

"Little dross of grape-juice, Little grains of yeast, Would make a wondrous party. But now they're both deceased.

"But come, look, join in. Be one of us for a few glorious days. Let's sing the old old melodies, And dress in yester ways. As in the past let's look for gold. Let's think we own a mine. Let's make believe we're back again.

"When you come to my home in the golden valley of dreams on the 23rd inst., you will find the hosts string out and waiting for you; walk right in, put on your old duds and make yourself at home. Farewell!"

URGES SALVATION ARMY AID

Mayor Cryer Broadcasts Brigadier Boyd's Message in Annual Spring Fund Campaign

The romance of the Salvation Army—its great work, its economy—and the need for funds in the Southern California spring fund campaign was yesterday broadcast from the Times Radio Station by Mayor Cryer.

Pointing to the saving to the State resulting from the work of the Army, and urging the populace to throw its financial support to the helpful effort, Mayor Cryer said:

"This is Brigadier C.R. Boyd's message to the people of Southern California on the opening of the annual spring drive for funds for the Salvation Army in Los Angeles.

"It is a distinctive privilege and an appreciated honor for me to tell the Salvation Army story over the wonderful Times radio broadcasting system. The radio is the most remarkable of modern wonders, yet is scarcely more so when it is used to tell the story of the world's greatest humanitarian work.

"A man visualized a people who made their houses haunts of sin, crime, sickness, sadness and was, changed into a people who instead of quarrels were heard and prayer instead of cursing became a prominent feature in every day's program. This change was to be accomplished by maintaining a constant, daily contact with the particular community or street, showing by example and by teaching what Christ could do for those who would look upon Him, William Booth, the founder of the organization, gave himself to this work in 1865, and lived to see his followers carry his spirit and message around the world.

"From the very first spiritual results brought physical, mental and moral benefits. Institutions were soon established to aid along these lines until now in many ways the army story when first poured into attentive ears.

"Victims are coming high this season, so the ham and eggs will be on you, brother," said two bandits who held up Richard Paul Jones of 423 South Hill street early yesterday morning.

The hold-up occurred near Olive and Seventh streets, the victim reported to police. The bandits obtained $27. Detectives Gruy and Murray of the flying squadron were detailed to the case.

could doubtless have done what the Salvation army did. No special indignity was involved only because the victim was a poor fellow. The bandits' help was probably not more than $10 all told. Ten dollars to transmute the last years of a mother's life from sorrow to happiness. Is $10 too much for that?

NEED FUNDS
"And so the writer reveals the work of one of the army departments in California. There are over 100 centers of activity, and an untiring follow-up. Hundreds of full or part-time workers, all devoted to the task of helping others—live and grow stronger in true righteousness, full productivity and good citizenship.

"The work in Los Angeles functions along many useful lines. It contributes to the health and physical growth of several thousand children each year to the happiness and contentment of mothers who must support their families; to the care of the aged and the protection of a home; and to the unknown unemployed for whom a job is found, and a job obtained; to many women and children who are where they need them, and to the establishing of families as free citizens and free taxpayers of a few dollars and a little encouragement and assistance in setting up a home.

"Ninety thousand dollars is needed to make this work fully effective this year, but economically alone is it not worth a million? A dollar this week from every wage-earning family in Los Angeles would subscribe the full quota. Please send your contribution to 423 Chamber of Commerce Building or hand it to a solicitor who wears a red ribbon and possesses an official receipt book.

"I thank you for your kind attention and hope to have occasion to again so thank you before the week is over."

ARMY ECONOMICAL
"J. Bruce Barton, the well-known magazine writer, has attempted to state what the Salvation Army can do with $1000. After showing how a woman of the street was reclaimed to virtue at a cost of $100, where before she had been a host of taxpayers, $100 per week, he refers to other departments in the following language:

"To millions of people the street corner meeting and the Christmas dinner for the poor represent the entire range of the army's activities. As a matter of fact, there are only a tiny part. There are a host of other departments in the army's work, but the police do not discover them. There are industrial homes mid homes where babies are born without a name. And there is an international inquiry bureau of missing friends, with over 12,000 local branches in seventy-three countries and colonies, where some forty-four languages are spoken, devoted to the world-wide task of reuniting the separated and healing old wounds.

"The army's eighty publications co-operate with the bureau, and every officer and soldier is a part of the network by which stunts are searched for husbands who ought to go home, and daughters who have too long forgotten to write, and missing heirs to estates, and sons for whom mothers have waited and watched. This is the story of one such son—a sailor.

MOTHER IN IRELAND
"His mother lives in Ireland and the last letter she had received was mailed from San Francisco. Rather meager evidence on which to trace a boy whose calling might take him to any port in the world, but the army was not discouraged. The mother's letter was sent from New York to Chicago where an inquiry to the sailor's officials in South Africa had for the boy had sailed on a three-masted schooner for South Africa. At once a letter started to the Salvation Army officials there.

"Weeks passed, and there came a reply. The boy had been reported at South Africa, but had shipped again for Australia. The army officials in South Africa had forwarded the inquiry after him. From Melbourne came the word that he had been in Sydney. Sydney answered that he had sailed for Hongkong. Through the American Consul there it was learned that he had a permanent position as light-house tender at Shanghai. So the search that began in Ireland ended in triumph on the other side of the world.

Applying the "Old Army Pep" to high-speed radio "Service of Supply," American Legion men of Arrowhead government hospital, Riverside and San Bernardino yesterday established a record in "whipping" a radio outfit into service.

The Legion party speeded into Los Angeles Sunday, obtained from the Times a short wave transmitter with two-stage amplifier. Back-tracking in a hurry, the veterans arrived at the hospital in quick order where the party went to work installing the set, and the men yesterday listened in on the Times and other co-operators broadcast from Los Angeles.

LIABILITY ADMITTED
Jury to Determine Damages Due in Bus Mishap

Admitting the liability of the accident which occurred June 21, 1931, when a bus overturned on Wilshire, a jury was impaneled yesterday to determine the amount of damages due Mrs. Frances Bennish, who was injured in the accident.

When the case was called attorneys for the company announced that they admitted their liability in the accident and requested that the jury hear the evidence in order to fix an equitable amount of damages.

Sum by ChangeNew Ordinance Wipes Away Asserted Inequalities

The Board of Public Works yesterday took action to wipe out the inequalities and injustices of the ordinance calling for the construction at a cost of $2,800,000 of the Arroyo de la Baccharia storm drain system in the Wilshire and Hollywood districts, the commission directing City Engineer Griffin to present revised modified plans which, they hope, will result in a saving of at least $1,000,000 to the taxpayers.

The former plans called for thirty-seven miles of sewers and laterals, and thousands of property owners, under the leadership of the Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, protested that this would result in burdening with taxes owners of high land, particularly in the Hollywood district, whose property would not be benefited by the improvement. The ordinance was passed by the City Council over these protests, but a technical defect in the measure was discovered by the City Attorney's office, and this made necessary the re-drafting of the ordinance and its passage. This has not as yet been done.

Taking advantage of the situation, the Board of Public Works, consisting of President Treat and Commissioners McGuire and Delo, ordered the City Engineer to prepare new plans which would provide for the construction of drains only in the low flooded areas of the district.

President Treat stated yesterday that the board was convinced that it would be a waste of the taxpayers' money and an unnecessary burden on them to construct drains in areas where the water was drained off quickly. The action of the board is expected to reduce the size of the storm drain system at least one-third.

When the modified plans are finally approved by the board and sent to the Council, the commissioners will also recommend that the new ordinance be drawn so as to provide partial payment to the sewer contractors as units of the work are completed and in this way wipe out the large interest charge, estimated at $600,000 under the old ordinance, which the contractor would be forced to add to his cost estimate to be paid for by the taxpayers, representing no production work, but only the charge for financing the contract.

Until the board was convinced that the old ordinance was entirely the old proceedings and will result in making an entirely new start on plans to relieve storm-water conditions in the Wilshire and Hollywood districts.

MATE RAISED CHECK.
SAYS WIFE IN SUIT

SPENT THE MONEY ON OTHER WOMEN, THEN CEASED TO LOVE HER, ASSERTED

Asserting that her husband raised a $250 check to $250 and, posing as a single man, spent the proceeds on other women, Mrs. Catherine A. Beardslee of Ocean Park yesterday filed suit for divorce against Elbert E. Beardslee, a salesman.

Mrs. Beardslee says that shortly after their marriage Dec. 14, 1926, she received a check from her husband for $250. Her husband took possession of it, she says, raised it to $250 and cashed it at the bank. The proceeds, she asserted, went to entertain other women who believed him single.

During all the time she was visiting her parents in Canada, she says, he represented himself to be unmarried. He even went so far as to become engaged to another woman, she says, and purchased an engagement ring with $200 Mrs. Beardslee's mother had given him to send to his wife for her fare back to Los Angeles.

She says that on April 14, last, he told her he did not love her and left their home. She asks $100 a month alimony and the custody of their son, Raymond Beardslee, age 5 years.

COOKS AND WAITERS
WILL HOLD TO JOBS

(RECEIVE DISPATCH)
SAN FRANCISCO, May 8.—Rather than go out on strike members of the Cooks and Waiters' Union of Sacramento have decided to hold to their jobs in wages for waiters from $4 to $3.50 per day for eight hours, as proposed by the Restaurant Men's Association.

The announcement was made today following the count of the vote, which was by secret ballot. The reduction was to go into effect June 1. The pay of cooks remains at $5 and $6 per day.

DISMISS MALICIOUS
PROSECUTION SUIT

The suit of Alfred G. Fouts, who sought $5000 damages from Jacob and Tachael Tabak, asserting malicious prosecution, was dismissed yesterday by Judge Burrell, when the case was called and Fouts failed to appear.

Fouts charged that the defendants caused his arrest on a charge of disturbing the peace, which was later dismissed in police court.

Minister of Justice Demands Inquiry and the Arrest of Culprits

THE CASE—RECENTLY DISCLOSED.
PEKING, May 8.—The greatest financial scandal that has place since the establishment of the republic developed recently when Tung Kang, acting minister of justice and chairman of the judicial commission, in a message to the President, demanded an investigation to be made into alleged misappropriations of public funds and the conditions under which the various loans had been made and the manner in which the proceeds had been spent.
The investigation was directed to the memorial Tung Kang made to the President, in which he stated that as chief of the judicial commission, he had officials having interests in public houses have been doing business with their money, that they have used the money to under false names, that on large bribes they have obtained the money, that they have collected bonds and other securities at very low prices,
and that they have
used the money to buy land and buildings and other property.
